

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

BTL Delighted to Support AQA Annual Award Ceremony

Shipley, United Kingdom, December 2009

BTL Group Ltd, the leading UK based provider of e-Assessment solutions, is proud to sponsor and support the AQA annual awards ceremony. The ceremony will take place on 14th December 2009 in London and will recognise outstanding performances in this year's exams.

Earlier in the year, AQA signed a 6 year partnership agreement with BTL to develop and deliver the AQA TEAL (Technology Enabled Assessments for Learners) programme. The partnership will see BTL supply AQA with a full end-to-end service including their e-Assessment system, project management, training and support.

BTL will be represented by Managing Director, Keith Myers, who will be presenting a number of awards during the ceremony. Keith will be supported by Account Manager, Jessica Pape, who will be on hand during the breaks to show the AQA GCSE Science Exemplars that have been created using BTL Surpass.

Keith Myers says, "BTL is extremely pleased to support AQA at this joyous event, which aptly celebrates outstanding assessment achievements. Our congratulations and best wishes go out to all the winners."

Speaking about the ceremony, Mike Cresswell, AQA's Director General, said: "AQA is proud to continue to host the Annual Seminar and Awards. Our award winners have achieved outstanding success, and I congratulate them and wish them every success in the future."

About AQA

AQA is the largest of the three English exam boards, awarding 49% of full course GCSEs and 42% of A-levels nationally. In total, students take over 3.5 million exams with us each year.

Ofqual's report on awarding bodies' customer service standards for the 2008 A level and GCSE exams showed that:

- when teachers needed to phone an awarding body, 79.1% of them described their experience with AQA as positive
- only 1.1% - the lowest of any awarding body - had difficulty getting through to AQA
- the AQA website was deemed the most useful by respondents
